Hello, my name is Ken Xie and I am from Guangzhou, China. I thank God for giving me the opportunity to share my testimony with you. When I was in China, I attended some family gatherings with my friends and had some initial contact with the Christian faith, but for various reasons, that experience did not allow me to truly understand the meaning of faith. Although I had been exposed to the gospel, I still had a lot of questions in my mind, and I didn't have much freedom to go deeper.

After coming to Los Angeles, I had the opportunity to be formally exposed to the church, attending Sunday school and worship services. Here, I feel the warmth and support of the church family, and the atmosphere of faith here makes me feel very free and at peace. I can freely study the Bible and openly pray and communicate with my brothers and sisters. Every time we meet, I feel God's presence and His love for me.

During this process, I gradually realized my past shortcomings and saw many areas in my life that needed to be changed by God. I learned to surrender my worries and stress to the Lord, and experienced the peace and strength that prayer brings.

My decision to be baptized and my willingness to publicly confess Jesus Christ as my Savior is more than a ritual, it is an important starting point for my life of faith. I am willing to trust God and rely on His strength and wisdom to live a life that is more in line with His will. I thank God for leading me here so that I can know and love Him more deeply in a free environment, and I hope that my testimony can be a testimony of His love to more people.
