

A religious illustration depicting Jesus standing on a rocky outcrop, holding a wooden staff in his right hand and a bundle of straw over his left shoulder. He is gesturing with his right hand towards a large crowd of people gathered below. The crowd consists of men, women, and children, many wearing traditional Middle Eastern attire like head coverings and robes. The background features a rugged, hilly landscape with sparse vegetation and a body of water in the distance under a blue sky with scattered clouds.
